INSTRUCTIONAL SYSTEMS

Intuitive, Intelligent and Diverse Training Solutions

“DPA provides comprehensive analysis, design, development, implementation and evaluation services for any training environment.”

INSTRUCTIONAL SYSTEMS DEVELOPMENT (ISD)

DPA is a leader in providing Instructional Systems Development (ISD) for the Navy and USMC. DPA provides comprehensive analysis, design, development, implementation and evaluation services for any training environment. Every stage of instructional design is performed utilizing cutting edge software and media to maximize the training experience while maintaining instructional effectiveness and affordability.

Every system that is fielded requires some measure of instruction or training. DPA was acquired by L-3 for the purpose of providing training services internally and in conjunction with L-3 systems prime work. DPA's training solutions are competitively priced to maximize value for our customer. DPA's customers include DoD, OSHA, IRS, FBI and numerous commercial entities including multiple divisions of L-3.

TECHNOLOGY BASED TRAINING

DPA is a leader in Technology Based Training development for the Navy and USMC rotary and fixed wing aircraft systems. Ranging from computer based training (CBT) through web based training, DVD, podcasting and embedded performance support, DPA has produced over 3,000 hours of courseware for operators and maintainers of over 15 different major aircraft systems. Additional government programs have been developed for the Departments of Justice and Labor. Commercial efforts include a variety of interactive, self paced programs supporting the financial, pharmaceutical and travel industries.

DPA was the first to receive SCORM certification and continues to lead the industry in the production of SCORM 2004 conformant courseware. DPA's courseware matches complexity and interactivity to the training need, incorporating simulations, desktop simulation devices and intelligent tutors that maximize value with 3-D imaging and animations.

Technology Based Training provides a range of flexible and cost effective solutions to meet specific training requirements. Self-paced courseware prepares the learner through flexible interactive training available 24/7 over a variety of delivery methods. Testing, remediation and full Learning Management System (LMS) capabilities can be built into the system for a comprehensive turn-key solution.

DARS (DOMS and Related Systems) and C3 (Compose, Compile and Collaborate) are DPA's courseware development and Management systems.
